

After a great time of being in Ireland I have decided to get back there as much as I can. In late Spring of 2010 I made my way back and connected with friends and musicians from my previous trip. I was fortunate enough to stay with a great accordion player from Innes, Clare, by the name of Sean Murphy. I was also fortunate enough to work and play with a number of musicians from the area in sessions, special events, and the Fleadh in County Kerry with an excellent ceili band `The Four Courts`
